Our Impact

The Junior League emphasizes the training of women in volunteer service and developing their potential to act as community leaders. This commitment to training not only serves the needs of our League, but it also provides a service to other local organizations throughout the Northwest Arkansas region who are also committed to ending domestic violence. The Junior League measures success not only by the partnerships we make to impact the community, but also by the members developed to move into service and leadership within members jobs as well as with other organizations and boards.

Our History

JLNWA began in 1992 as the Junior Service League of Northwest Arkansas Inc., with the intent of affiliating with the Association of Junior Leagues International Inc. After seven years of working to improve our community, we accomplished affiliation and became the Junior League of Northwest Arkansas on April 21, 1999.
